Source 2

On Freedom Day, 27th April 2000, South Africa got a new coat of arms. It replaced the old coat of arms which had been used since 1910. The new coat of arms represents the change in South Africa to a democracy. The new coat of arms shows many different symbols that represent a new South Africa and the birth of a new and inclusive country.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
